

Georgia CRS Chapter awards AE of the Year to Tom O'Rourke

Tom O'Rourke, NAMAR CEO and Executive Vice President, was presented with the CRS AE of the Year Award at the Awards Celebration Luncheon held at the GAR Inaugural Meeting in Charleston, February 4th. Anyone who knows Tom would not be surprised that he was recognized for his contributions to the Georgia CRS Chapter. Tom acts (and boy can he act) as administrator for the Georgia CRS Chapter. But, like anything else that Tom does, he has gone above and beyond what is expected of him. He started the Georgia CRS Google Group where CRS members can post documents, start discussions and interact with other members. Tom is always willing to help CRS promote the designation and the courses that they offer. In September 2009 at the CRS General Membership Meeting in Orlando, Tom did not hesitate to present "When Social Media and Article 12 of the Code of Ethics Collide". And as always, his insight was very beneficial to those in attendance. The list goes on and on. Congratulations Tom on your recognition. You deserve it!
